

Product Overview: IT Security

IT security solutions for peace of mind

Network Security is no longer a "nice to have" feature of an IT infrastructure. Due to the advent of chat programs, vast use of email and constant internet connectivity, no organisation can afford to keep its doors wide open. Lemon specialises in keeping prying eyes out of your files and ensures that nobody takes control of your network for malicious intent.

How can Lemon's unique IT security solutions protect my business?

Our unique firewall solution offers the following benefits:

- The strongest encryption and firewalls available with today's technology
- Remote management enabling our engineers to configure and maintain at reduced cost
- Logging and monitoring features for ongoing optimisation
- Protects your whole network from outside attack

In addition to this all of our engineers are fully up to date on contemporary security threats and with standard or full maintenance packages will pro-actively monitor your security risks.

Lemon's partnership with Sophos anti-virus means your company will stay virus free and always be up to date with the latest protection

Sophos offers complete protection and control to business, education and government organizations – defending against known and unknown malware, spyware, intrusions, unwanted applications, spam, and policy abuse, and providing comprehensive network access control (NAC).

"Sophos... consistently beat McAfee and Symantec in ease-of-use which should reduce recurring costs in any size enterprise."

What makes it so good?

- Scan once, not five times – detects all viruses, spyware, adware and other threats
- Protect computers automatically
- Detect threats before they execute
- Assess and control all managed and unmanaged computers

We also offer security solutions via our email setups, including:

- Spam Filtering
- Grey listing (Enhanced Spam blocking)
- Sender Policy Framework (preventing spoof emails)

..and via the web using:

- Web content filtering framework (blocking sites you don't want employees to see)

The costs associated with IT security depend heavily on your requirements, get in touch to arrange a quote or to find out more.

If you value your IT security then speak to the experts, call us on 020 8878 2138.